As the moonbeams love the billow, Swelling, beautiful and blue; As the rainbow loves the cloudlet That lies slumbering in the air-O, yes, I love that suany brow, Forever bright and fair.

In sunshine and in darkness-In sorrow and in care-In festive halls or silent groves-I love thee everywhere. 'Mid thrones of fragrant flowers, In sadness or in glee,
Thy pure unsullied countenance

Is ever bright to me. I love thee, wildly love thee, And I would this sentence brief Were written with the crystal dew Upon each tender leaf.

I would that it were murmured By the laughing meadow streams-That it might dwell in all thy thoughts, And all thy growing dreams.

I would that every happy bird On every bush and tree, Would sing it to thee softly, Yet with marble wild and free. would that every zephyr That comes from o'er the lea, Would bear upon its bosom These burning words to thee.

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN HOTELS .- We could hardly picture to ourselves a greater contrast than that between an old country and an American hotel. The two things are not in the least alike. Arriving at an inn in England, you are treated with immense deference, allowed the seclusion of a private apartment, charged exorbitantly for everything, and, at departure, curtsied and bowed out at the door, as if a prodigious favor had been conferred on the establishment. In the United States. things are managed differently. The Amerisingular merit of not being exclusive, extortionate, or subservient. But where all travel, hetel keepers can afford to act magnanimous. ly. Instead of looking to livelihood from a few customers, scheming petty gains by running up a bill for the use of candles, firing and other conveniences, and smoothing every thing over by a mercenary bow, the proprietor of an American hotel is a capitalist at the head of a great concern, and would despise doing anything shabby; hundreds pour into and out of his house daily; he notices neither your coming nor going; without ceremony you are free of the establishment; and when you pay and depart, there are no bows, no thanks; but you are not fleeced; and that is always felt to be a comfort.—William Chambers.

OUTRAGES AT THE NORTH.-The following advertisement we found yesterday morning, in the columns of the New York Tribune: RAN AWAY FROM THE SUBSCRIBER, an Indentured Apprentice; I therefore forbid all persons harboring him on my ac-HENRY P. SEE. When all persons are forbid harboring runaway colored slaves, Mr. Greeley raises his m; and 7 to 8 p m. hands in holy horror; but when we are forbid to harbor a white one, (for the above person is Homeopathic College Ps., and the profession gensuch to all intents and purposes until he is erally. twenty-one years of age,) we hear not a word in condemnation of the course. Just as soon, however, as it becomes prefitable business Mr. Greeley may be expected to go into it .- Day PROGRESS OF CANT, HUMBUG AND FANATIcisy.-Reformed drunkards, gamblers, and prestitutes have figured so profitably before the public that numbers are tempted to go into these branches and qualify. The area, too, of reformation is widening, with the demands of the public. "A reformed burglar and robber," and a leader of a gang headed by one who has spent twelve years of his life in the prisons of the different States of the Union, is now lecturing to crowded houses in the county of Livingston, N. Y. The Rochester Democrat, a paper of the slang-whang school, announces that the Great Reformed and most illustrious lecturer intends to favor that city with a visit, "and deliver a course of lectures, in which he will give his views on the present prison discipline and management. He will also give a true history of his crimes commit-ted in this and the Western States."—Albany

ANECDOTE OF THE GIBAFFE .- The New Orleans Son relates a humorous story of a very well dressed man and genteel looking person who was so curious to see the gizaffe, and who stepped up to the "man wot" receives the money's with :-

"Is the girafie to be seen here?" "Yes, sir."

"I want to see him." "Very well, sir." "It's fifty cents, isn't it?"

"One dollar, sir. Fifty cents for servants." "Well, I'm a servant.

"You a servant?"

"Yes, sir" "The devil! Whose?"

"Yours, sir; your humble servant." "Walk in and take a seat."

The joke was worth the price of admission. The Hamilton (Canada West) Spectator learns that as the Great Western train was proceeding west on Saturday night, the fireman missed the engineer shortly after they passed Woodstock. He immediately stopped the train, and having gone back on the line for some distance, they found the poor fellow lying on the road, with his head severely smashed and otherwise so injured that he is early copy not likely to recover. It is supposed that Mr. SAM'L B. HICKCOX, Second street, Balti not likely to recover. It is supposed that while oiling some part of the machinery he had been thrown off.

INVIGORATING CORDIAL A PHENOMENON IN MEDICINE. LIEALTH RESTORED AND LIFE LENGTHENED, by DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING

MLIXIR OR CORDIAL.—At first the properties attributed to Prof. MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXIR OR CORDIAL were deemed fabulous. The public often deceived, sould not believe the simple and sublime trathe announced by the discoverer.— But facts, undeniable facts attested by witnesses of the highest class and character, are now triumphing over all doubts. INCREDULITY IS OVER-THROWN by a mass of testimony which is perfectly The MIXIR remedies, in all cases, the deplorable evils arising from a misuse or abuse of the various organs which make up the road ful machine called man. It restores to full vigor every delicate functien connected with that mysterious compound agency of matter end mind, necessary to the repreduction of human life. To persons of feeble muscular frame, or deficient in vital power, it is recommended as the only means of communicating that energy which is necessary to the proper enjoyment of all the natural appetites, as well as the higher mental attributes. Its beneficial effects are not confined to either sex or to any age. The feeble girl. the ailing wife, the listless, ernevated youth, the overworn man of business, the victim of nervous depression, the individual suffering from general de-bility, or from the weakness of a single organ, will all find immediate and permanent relief from the use of this incomparable renovator. To those who have a predisposition to paralysis it will prove a complete and unfailing safeguard against that terricomplete and unfailing safeguard against that terrible malady. There are many, perhaps, who have so trifled with their constitutions, that they think themselves beyond the reach of medicine. Let not even these despair. The Elixir deals with disease as it exists, without reference to causes, and will not only remove the disorder itself, but

REBUILD THE BROKEN CONSTITUTION.

The derangements of the system, leading to ner-yous diseases, and the forms of nervous disease itself, are so numerous that it would require a column to enumerate the maladies for which this prepara-Wasted upon with despatch.
